SPARKS

It starts with a single spark

A spark is something that gives your life meaning and purpose. It's an interest, a passion, or a gift. What do you bring to the world that is good, beautiful, and useful?

Parenting a teenager today isn't easy. Author Peter Benson has discovered a key way for parents and other caring adults to help all teenagers succeed: discover and nurture their SPARKS.

All parents want their children to lead lives of purpose and passion, and one of the best ways to set children on the path toward a fulfilling life is to help them recognize and nurture their sparks—the interests, talents, or dreams that motivate them and help them find their true passions. The greatest gift parents can give their children is to help them discover the things that truly inspire them.

Join Dr. Benson for this special event and find out more about sparks—and how you can cultivate the passions of young people.
